ABSTRACT

An attempt to meet the need for resource materials available for Adult Basic Education (ABE) personnel who work with Spanish-speaking adults is presented. The information presented was acquired by writing to commercial publishers throughout the country. Evaluations included were completed by identifying the usefulness of the curricular offerings for Spanish-speaking adults. Portions of the evaluations are designed for children and junior and senior high school students, some of these have proven useful to adults. Evaluative criteria used when the materials were assessed include: Title, Author, Publisher, Objectives, Criterion Measures, Instructional Components, Learner Prerequisite, Teacher Requirements, Reliability Effect, Cost, and Time. INTRODUCTION

There has been, and is now, a need for resource materials available for Adult Basic Education personnel who work with Spanish speaking adults. This three-volume document has been prepared to meet that need.

Teachers, aides, and administrators should be able to make good use of this publication. The original curriculum documents reviewed for this publication were evaluated by qualified, objective ABE instructors who work continually with a Spanish speaking population that includes students at levels One, Two, Three and GED.

This document is likely to be controversial since there is considerable divergence of opinion between the assessments made by the teachers and the promotional literature which has, in some cases, been produced by commercial publishers.

Certainly, the reader can determine for himself the importance, effectiveness and accuracy of the evaluations in this document when he compares the source materials.

The information was acquired by writing to commercial publishers throughout the country. In turn, they gave or loaned those materials they had available for Adult Basic Education students.

The evaluations included in this publication were completed by identifying the usefulness of the curricular offerings for Spanish speaking adults.

A portion of the evaluations in this publication are designed for children and junior and senior high school students. Some of these have proven useful to adults.

The reader, in identifying and determining relevant material to meet specific needs, should give careful attention to the evaluative criteria used when the materials were assessed.

Those criteria include:

Title, Author, Publisher

Objectives

Criterion Measures

Instructional Components

Learner Prerequisite

Teacher Requirements

Reliability Effect

INTRODUCTION

There has been, and is now, a need for resource materials available for Adult Basic Education personnel who work with Spanish-speaking adults. This document has been prepared to meet that need.

Teachers, aides, and administrators should be able to make good use of this publication. The original curriculum documents reviewed for this publication were evaluated by qualified, objective ABE instructors who work day in and day out with a Spanish-speaking population that includes students at levels, 1, 2, 3 and G.E.D.

We realize that this document is likely to be controversial as there is considerable divergence of opinion between the assessments made by the teachers and the promotional literature which has, in some cases, been produced by commercial publishers.

Certainly, the reader can determine for himself the importance, effectiveness and accuracy of the evaluations in this document when he compares first-hand the source materials.

The information for the Materials Library was acquired by writing to commercial publishers throughout the country. In turn they gave or loaned those materials they published, allegedly, for Adult Basic Education students.

The evaluations included in the Materials Library publication were completed by identifying the usefulness of the curricular offerings for Spanish-speaking adults.

The materials have been evaluated, categorized, annotated and entered into a loose-leaf reference book for publication. In addition, some of the materials have been made available for review in the Materials Library at the Southwestern Cooperative Educational Laboratory in Albuquerque, New Mexico, located at 117 Richmond Drive, N. E.

A portion of the evaluations in this publication are designed for children and junior and senior high school students; some of these have proven useful to adults.

The reader, in identifying and determining relevant material to meet specific needs, should give careful attention to the evaluative criteria used when the materials were assessed. Those criteria include:

Comments and Evaluation

An interesting approach to learning a basic vocabulary of nouns -- pictures show each word to be learned, provide space for practice writing and then use the new words in sentences and finally in stories. Could be very helpful in a basic English class or in English as a Second Language.

An excellent series to use with a beginning group (non-English speaking). Very good format. The series starts out with a readiness book that excludes irregular spellings that make English difficult to learn.

Comments and Evaluation

A fine book intended for adult students who are beginning to read English. It tells the story of the everyday experiences of an average immigrant family in the U.S.A. Its vocabulary and sentence structure are simple and carefully graded. Each lesson presents two readings, the second more difficult than the first, plus exercises in comprehension, grammar, and pronunciation. Good format.

Comments and Evaluation

A teacher's guide for the teaching of English as a foreign language. Good suggestions for classroom procedures. It deals with the "how" of teaching rather than the "why".

Comments and Evaluation

This is a simplified basic English grammar worktext. It is not programmed but it could be useful review for English. Much practice is given to newly learned concepts - really too simple for the G.E.D. Rather good exercises.
